

The Tamar Valley

Welcomes Coach Drivers

Bridging the Devon/Cornwall border, the Tamar Valley offers an enjoyable visit for both coach drivers and passengers. Expect scenic river views, gentle touring roads, clearly defined stops and attractions that understand the needs of group travel.

Coach drivers are warmly welcomed, with participating venues offering a complimentary meal voucher as a thank-you for bringing groups into the region, a simple but appreciated incentive that reflects the Valley's reputation for good hospitality and easy working.

VISIT TAMAR VALLEY
BRIDGING DEVON AND CORNWALL

Exploring the Valley with Groups

As a Coach Driver, Group leader or Tour operator, how many times have your passengers crossed the River Tamar, be it on the A30 or the A38 (other minor routes are available) and asked themselves hmmm where could we rest awhile ... are there comfort stops ... where could our group visit and explore?

The Tamar Valley offers a wide range of rewarding stop-off experiences, ideal even for groups simply travelling east or west between destinations such as Plymouth, Torquay, Exeter or Newquay, each providing a memorable taste of the Tamar Valley.

- National Trust property ... Several
- Glorious Gardens ... spoilt for choice
- Museums ... each telling the unique story of its town
- Cream Tea (remember on which side of the river you are, for the jam/cream order) ... again spoiled for choice
- Rail Trips ... Plymouth-Gunnislake, Launceston Steam Railway
- Boat Trips ... Plymouth- Saltash-Calstock
- Viewpoints ... The Tamar Bridge, Kit Hill
- And a Castle ... Launceston

The river has always been an important highway, winding its way through steep banks, being crossed by ancient bridges, with deeply incised old tracks coming down to forgotten quays...and today has so much to rediscover.
